BESCHRIJVING

The combination of 60's design and a very pleasant sitting comfort creates a contemporary couch with a special character. Thanks to the three cushions, sitting on the sofa is like being held in a glove. A special position is created, whereby you sit, almost lie, in a relaxed position supported from your knees to your neck and from which you can get up remarkably easily. The sofa hovers high off the ground thanks to its specific legs, which are a take on vintage airport lounge furniture. Viewed from the side, the foot design continues upwards in the other direction into the angular side profile of the armrest.
